DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 9 and 17 are rejected under 112 second paragraph

1. Regarding claims 1, 9 and 17, the phrase "such as" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

2. Claim 17 is rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim is narrative in form and does not contain positively recited steps of specific process. Note that method claims should set forth a series of steps in the active tense in an instruction-like manner thereby reciting an actual method. Dependant claims should further limit base claims by reciting additional steps in a like-wise function. Ex parte Erlich, 3USPQ2d 1011 at 1017[6].

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

The following underlined claimed subject matter is unclear to the examiner in that it seems repetitive;

"with a Packet Data Protocol address, or PDP address of the same mobile terminal."

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Qureshi (Wo 97/27713)

Qureshi discloses the subscribers existing in a cellular environment (packet switched network) as disclosed on page 4 lines 26-30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Qureshi (WO 97/27713) in view of Begeja et al. (US 20040076140).

Claim 13 Qureshi discloses a MSC requesting information from an SCP unit (page 13 lines 1-12), where information pertaining to services is found (Col 24 lines 1-12 and Col 13 lines 20-6).

Qureshi discloses the MSC being connected (element 37 in fig 4) to a SCP.

Qureshi discloses providing IN services which are sent from the SMAS to a subscriber (page 17 lines 20-26).

Qureshi does not specifically disclose the PDP address of the mobile terminal being stored in the service control point.

Begeja discloses an SCP and an SCP database for storing information regarding a mobile user's identification number and IP address (paragraph 0023, 0029 and see fig 2A).

It would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the SCP database as disclosed by Begeja within the SCP as disclosed by Qureshi. The motivation for this modification is to allow a user to access a service provider using an IP connection, where access may be made through the SCP (paragraph 0022).

Claim 14 Qureshi discloses transmitting a query, and then processing the call to a subscriber (page 13 lines 1-12 and page 24 lines 14-22).

Claim 15 Qureshi discloses a service management application for sending new services information to the SCP to be forwarded to the mobile terminal (page 13 line 20- page 14 line 6).

Claim 16 Qureshi discloses a service management application for sending new services information to the SCP to be forwarded to the mobile terminal (page 13 line 20- page 14 line 6).

Qureshi does not specifically disclose using the current PDP address to send the information.

Begeja discloses using an IP address to send information over a TCP/IP network (paragraph 0032).

It would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the database as disclosed by Begaja within the SCP as disclosed by Qureshi, allowing information to be sent using an IP address mapped from an identifier, thus allowing for information to be correctly routed over an internet connection.
